

Smart Credit Recovery™

Transforming your vendor data to recover hidden credits

JPD Financial Smart Credit Recovery service combines advanced accounts payable data processing technology with 35 years of expertise.

We work with the finance and procurement departments of global organizations to identify and recover money that is owed to you but lost in vendor systems.

Designed to harness financial information from large volumes of vendor data we uncover money using machine learning, automated processing, and predictive analytics.

We also work directly with your vendors to research possible credits, overpayments, and or duplicate payments on vendors' systems, that may not appear on the standard statements that you receive.

The service provides you with detailed information on your vendors' accounts to recover aged open credits not otherwise identified or reconciled. This service facilitates an additional, consistent revenue stream that returns directly to your bottom line.

BENEFITS

- Ease of setup using advanced platform technology that connects to any data source.
- Minimum disruption to your accounts payable, shared service and internal audit team.
- Experience combined with automation puts money back to your bottom-line faster.
- Master Vendor Data cleansed strengthening vendor relationships.
- Root cause analysis to identify anomalies in lost credits.

JPD Financial will find the money you are owed, faster and with minimum disruption to your daily financial operations. To date, we have audited $1 Trillion in spend and have the highest recovery rate in the industry.

HOW IT WORKS

Our technology firstly captures, transforms, cleanses and manages the quality of your vendor data. Key information such as annual spend, industry codes, banking information and Tax ID's are updated. The system also eliminates inactive vendors, prohibited watch lists vendors, and excludes any suppliers that are deemed out of scope.

Using automated AP data capture, vendor statement data capture and Master Data Cleansing technology, all data is processed using specifically designed algorithms.

These are focused on finding all identifiable anomalies and credit payment recoveries, as well as applying advanced analytics that focus on the key areas for successful credit recovery.

JPD Financial's secure customer portal provides transparent interactive dashboards reporting on performance, all key findings and updates throughout the process. The portal also makes it easy to accept credits for approval via interactive customer dashboards.

Smart Credit Recovery™

With minimal time and effort needed from your team, we'll do the work and you'll get all the credit. Credit that often translates into millions of dollars in recovered revenue.
